Rally Armor® UR Mud Flap Kit

Experienced industry fabricators, utilizing premium materials, creating quality products on high grade machinery for your customers.

Rally Armor® Mud Flaps.

Rally Armor® UR series mud flaps are manufactured from the rarest of tear and shock resistant USA fabricated polyurethane plastic that also remains 100% flexible for all road conditions – the type to endure arctic cold and desert heat conditions without degrading, deforming or warping.

Introduced in 2007, Rally Armor® UR mud flaps have toughed out mountain peaks, valleys, potholes and the persistent and degrading UV effects of the sun.

Known as the trusted brand for vehicle specific, drill-free mud flaps that require zero modification to factory liners, custom stainless-steel brackets serve as mounting points.

There Is No Better Test Than Time.

Made in NYC since 2004.

Engineered and manufactured right in the industrial hub of NYC with access to vetted testing labs and ASTM reports, Rally Armor® uses laser scanning and 3DP technologies to ensure flush fitment and is at the forefront of technologies to enhance logo decoration.

Dedicated to testing, retesting and improving standards, Rally Armor® continues to dominate the category of mud flap protection.

ISO 9001:2015 Certified In Design, Machining, Finishing And Distribution Of Premium Mud Flaps.

Dedicated to manufacturing in the USA using top tier polyurethane formulated to exacting standards set forth by the managing team, since 2004, NYC-based Rally Armor® built its reputation on specializing in rally heritage mud flaps, the type that endure motorsports, stage rallying, off and overland terrain challenges.

Now a globally recognized brand, Rally Armor® attributes its ISO 9001:2015 certified practices to the years of continuous improvement in a competitive automotive accessories market.

We seek to listen, understand and constructively communicate with our customers.

Quality is an integral part of how we design, manufacture and package our goods. We believe this is best achieved with continuous innovation, attention to the fine details and an unwillingness to compromise high standards on our raw materials. Regular monitoring, evaluations and training for our core team members foster that alignment in the Company vision to expand our market reach while maintaining top quality and efficient processing times.

Customer satisfaction is at the core of our Company goals. We seek to listen, understand and constructively communicate with our customers. We uphold our own gold standard in all aspects of engineering, manufacturing, packaging and post order support in order to remain competitive in an ever-evolving marketplace.
